FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Credit Union Leaders to Gather in Chicago

Naperville, Ill. (June 21, 2017) – The Credit Union Executive Leadership Symposium is set to return to Chicago, IL on September 6-8, 2017, at the InterContinental Chicago Magnificent Mile. In its third year, the symposium, hosted by Alloya Corporate FCU and its wholly-owned CUSO, Balance Sheet Solutions, LLC will bring together credit union executives from across the nation, and provide education on industry trends, economic factors and leadership.

“We are excited to offer members a thoughtful agenda that will provide credit union focused education and encourage interactive discussion,” said Alloya’s Tim Bruculere, Senior Vice President, Membership. “Plus, we have planned a unique networking experience at The Art Institute of Chicago.”

Notable speakers include this year’s symposium keynote presenter, Bill Rancic, real estate developer, author and winner of season one of Donald Trump’s The Apprentice; and Sam Glenn (also known as the “Attitude Guy”), an award-winning motivational speaker.

Additional session speakers: Margie Giles, Vice President of Operations for Alloya; Larry Middleman, President/CEO of CU Business Group; Kristina Muller, CFA, Senior Portfolio Manager for Balance Sheet Solutions; Diane Overgard, Executive Life Coach from 45 Degrees Coaching; Jeffrey Paille, CPA, partner at The Bonadio Group; Alix Patterson, a partner at Callahan and Associates; Steven Rick, Chief Economist for CUNA Mutual Group; Todd Romer, founder of Young Money Media; and Tom Slefinger, Senior Vice President, Institutional Fixed Income Sales for Balance Sheet Solutions.

Members are invited to attend the corporate’s Board of Directors Annual Meeting on September 6.
