

Branch Capture

Branch Capture allows your credit union to scan and electronically transmit check images for processing from any workstation within a branch connected to a check scanner. This state-of-the-art solution provides added functionality and convenience, drawn from Alloya's extensive check processing experience and direct feedback from credit unions.

With Alloya's Branch Capture service, all check collection and settlement activities can be consolidated in one place while Alloya handles much of the back-office work - enabling your credit union staff to focus on your members.

In addition to the features and benefits provided by all TranzCapture services, Branch Capture provides the following solutions:

- All check collection and settlement activities can be consolidated in one place while Alloya handles much of the back-office work such as handling returns and adjustments, trouble-shooting file transmission errors, etc.
- Items cleared over the counter can be scanned as "Image Only" and archived for online access
- Savings bonds can be scanned for clearing
- Reporting is based upon location, teller and batch
- Facilitation of proper routing for shared branching return items
